A: This includes the exact files on your PHP file, and lines as follows: if ($_GET['uname'] == "osveta") { if ($_GET['pass'] == "mypass") { And a few other lines. Assuming the key is osveta with mypass, then $cleanString = str_replace("osveta", "", $inputString); This will turn osveta mypass into the following: mypass You should then be able to use str_replace with the following: $fullKey = "osveta".$_GET['pass']; $cleanString = str_replace($fullKey, "", $inputString); And if the pass is passed as a parameter, then do something like this: $fullKey = "osveta".$_GET['pass']; $fullKey = $fullKey.$_GET['uname']; $fullKey = $fullKey.$_GET['uname2']; ... $fullKey = $fullKey.$_GET['uname'].$i; And so on. Using $_GET['uname1'] will not work because the first value passed to str_replace is the search string, so we are looking for osveta.uname1. If you change this, the script will fail. says that a review and appeal board is due to be set up by the end of this month. It is hoped that there could be other action before then, but the Government is slow, slow, slow. It is one of my party's obligations to get these things done, and I think it's important that we do so in a way that's firm but fair. I must say that I am immensely disappointed that, only because the Government wants to, the Secretary of State feels that he can take the easiest option of ignoring Parliament's right of appeal. I ask the House to reconsider the Bill. As a matter of fact, some of us will start a second Bill of Opposition if the amendments that will be tabled at the end of today's debate are not accepted. I ask you to vote and I ask the House to reject the Government's Bill at f678ea9f9e
